

A GENTLE GIANT SPEAKS

So you want a Great Dane Puppy? A “gentle giant” to raise with your children? Well, I wanted a forever home that would love me for who I am, not what they think I should have been. You say you did your research; you say you researched breeders before buying. Yet you admit when you arrived at the breeder you purchased me because you felt sorry for me and could not leave me behind.

The human race is supposed to be smarter than a dumb dog. Well, apparently that is not true. A smart person would not have purchased from my breeder.

XENA, an abandoned Great Dane, was saved from euthansia by HHGDR and is now looking for a home. She too was handed from owner to owner.

Yes, you removed me from that place, but where are you today when I am homeless? A smart person would have walked away. Yes, that would have been leaving me behind, but all you accomplished was to enable the breeder to breed more puppies to end up homeless just like me.

You paid a lot of money because your research showed that spending more meant you were buying from a reputable breeder. Yeah right. You paid a backyard breeder (BYB) or puppy mill. You enabled more puppies to suffer—more puppies to end up homeless—more not lucky enough to end up in Rescue.

A reputable breeder would have taken me back and not allowed me to be homeless. So you gave me away “Free to a Good Home” because I did not match your research of a perfect Great Dane—a perfect gentle giant.

Mom and Dad, let me tell you a few facts about Great Danes! We are not born gentle giants. We are born puppies. Just like other puppies, we chew, play, and get into mischief. Danes, just like people, are not cast from one mold.

Have a happy and safe Fourth of July holiday!

Please remember to protect your pets from heat-related illness and fireworks!

Leave your pets at home. Most pets don't enjoy the crashing and flashing caused by fireworks and even the most trustworthy pet could become scared and run away.

Don't leave your pets in the car during a fireworks display—the temperatures inside the car may rise drastically and cause heat stroke.

For more tips see "Fireworks" on our Web site under "Canines & Humans."

We are all different just like you humans. Not every tall man is a basketball player just as every tall skinny woman is not a model.

If humans were smarter than dogs then you would not be buying from BYBs, puppy mills, or pet stores; you would be smart enough to know that like humans, no two dogs are the same, and none are perfect!

But the sad reality is that even after all your research I am homeless. No thanks to you I was lucky—I ended up in Rescue instead of being euthanized at the shelter where I was dumped! Yes, Mom and Dad, I ended up at the animal shelter with hundreds of other homeless dogs. That wonderful home you gave me to also dumped me just like you did! I have had five homes in a single year and now am homeless! When I was dumped at the shelter there was not enough room for me. I was scheduled to die and thanks to the Rescue I was saved just minutes before I was to be killed

The Rescue is smarter than you. They know that I am not perfect and they love me for who I am—not for what some stupid book or Web page says I should be!

FUNDRAISER AT THE BARKPARK

The BarkPark, <http://www.barkpark.org/>, "the only dog park in the United States established solely to raise funds for animal welfare organizations," made our June 16th day at their facility a huge success. Our volunteers also worked hard and Mozart Dane even contributed pawtographed visors and aprons to outfit them for the Rescue's largest fundraiser of the year. Thank you volunteers and BarkPark!

A family affair: Harry Schmidt (Amy's father), Steve Miller (Amy's husband), and Amy Miller staff our BarkPark ice cream stand.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL EVENT AGAIN A SUCCESS By Christe McGarry

For the past seven years HHGDR has held an annual event with Forest Elementary School (formerly Van Cleve Elementary) in Troy, Ohio. This is a very unique fundraising effort where young children work very hard to raise money, while also learning how to be responsible pet owners.

Each year during the month of May the students are encouraged to bring in pennies, nickels, and dimes for the dogs at Harlequin Haven. Throughout the month while the kids are finding various ways to collect money, the staff members take the opportunity to teach the students the importance of spaying and neutering, adopting through rescues and shelters, making a lifetime commitment to their pets, and the proper ways to care for animals.

This event began in 2001 as a little idea which we thought would bring in a small amount money for HHGDR, and has grown to be the one single day of the school year that the students most look forward. And because this is such an exciting day for the children, they are willing to come up with great ways of earning money for the dogs. The reward we provide for their hard work is bringing a few dogs to the school for a day.

There are some pretty amazing stories we hear about each year of how dedicated these young rescuers are to bringing in money for the rescue. This year we learned about Taner who was so excited about helping after our visit last year that she started a piggy bank just for the dogs at HHGDR. Each time she received her allowance she split it between her own piggy bank and the bank she donated to us. We met Darian who set up a lemonade stand after school for several days in May and then donated every bit of money she earned. We spent time with Brandon who shared with us how he went around his neighborhood mowing lawns just to bring in more money to help the dogs. Then there were Sydney, Christine, and several others who told us about all the yard work and extra cleaning they did at home or at their grandparent's to earn extra money for the dogs. Many students even gave up their school snack money for the dogs. There are just so many wonderful stories of generosity and kindness from these young children. It is truly heart-warming and refreshing to see just how much they care!

This year the school donated $650 to Harlequin Haven. And, for all their efforts, the students got to spend the day with Bentley, Gia, Jake, Sugar, and Timmy. The photos show just how happy everyone involved was on that day!

A very special thank you goes out to the entire staff at Forest Elementary School, especially Phyllis Dawkins and Linda McGarry who do the majority of the coordinating for this event each year. And, we also want to thank Sonja Venzin, John Whitacre, and Judy Yacks for taking time out of their busy schedules to spend their entire day at the school with their dogs.

This is a tradition that we hope to continue for many years to come. Not only is it a great fundraiser for HHGDR, but it is also a wonderful way to teach children at a very early age how important they can be in lives of animals.

INNOVATIVE DONORS INSPIRE

Karin Bergquist and Linford Detweiler are founders of Over the Rhine, a Cincinnati-based band. These Rescue advocates support and publicize rescue from the stage as they tour across the U.S. and Europe. They also offer space in their performance venue lobby for our awareness displays, enabling us to reach an audience of their fans who often come with money in hand to purchase band t-shirts and CDs. HHGDR volunteers staffed tables twice in April at the 20th Century Theater in Cincinnati. <http://www.overtherhine.com/>

Juliana Hoetjes and Brendan McWilliams are Great Dane owners and lovers of the breed, but had no prior connection with the Rescue until this year. Brendan is a Lacrosse coach at Kenyon College and the couple decided to hold fundraisers at two home games. HHGDR provided the materials and advice for setting up an awareness display, and it worked!. Juliana and Brendan raised more than $500 at those two games.
